DISCOVER YOUR ROOTS

A section of the museum houses research materials including city and telephone directories as well as news clippings. Archives include items from Parsons High School and Parsons Junior College.

SEE MODEL TRAINS

Located in the museum's rail yard, the restored Union Pacific Exercise Car houses model trains. The display also features a replica of downtown Parsons and photographs that reflect the city's railroad history.

REMEMBER OUR HEROES

Many wars have shaped our country and those who fought in them. See military uniforms, relics of the World Wars, and official documents from the Civil War era. Relive the stories of Parsonians who were part of a global conflict, and see how those on the homefront supported them.

IRON HORSE DEPOT

The Iron Horse building holds a unique collection of early railroad memorabilia. Located west of the main museum building, the Iron Horse is housed in a replica of a Katy, (Missouri, Kansas and Texas) line depot, circa 1900. A locomotive, box cars, and a caboose are also on display in the area.
